NEWMARKET PUBLIC LIBRARY BOARD GOVERNANCE POLICY

(subject to By-law 2007-01 that establishes the Newmarket Public Library Constitution)

1. BOARD STRUCTURE AND PURPOSE

The Public Libraries Act R.S.O. 1990, and applicable By-laws of the Library define the structure and mandate of the Library.

1.1 Board Structure

The Library Board comprises a minimum of five ~~members~~ Directors, with one less than a majority being members of Town Council. At the beginning of its term, the Board elects a Chair and a Vice-Chair from among its Directors. The Chair, by law, is elected for the full term and can only be replaced upon voluntary resignation or if the individual becomes ineligible to serve as a Director. Elected officers of the Library are the Chair and the Vice Chair. Although the Board may also elect from among its Directors a Treasurer and a Secretary, by default these roles fall to the CEO, who may delegate these roles to other staff. The Treasurer and Secretary are appointed by the Library Board. Since individuals serving on the Library Board are described in the Public Libraries Act and other official documents variously as ‘members’, ‘directors’, or ‘trustees’, they will be referred to throughout this document as “Directors”.

1.2 Committees

Ad hoc committees or working groups may be established, as required by the Board, to carry out specific tasks as well as make recommendations to the Board. Mandate and terms of reference, including committee membership, are required of all committees. The Board Chair and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) are considered ex-officio members of all committees.

1.3 Responsibilities as a Corporate Body

The Board’s role is to govern the affairs of the Library within the framework of the Public Libraries Act R.S.O. 1990.

The Board in discharging its responsibilities for the governance of the Library oversees the management of the Library’s finances, facilities and services. The Board ensures the proper and adequate discharge of this duty through its Treasurer, Secretary and CEO on behalf of and reporting to the Board.

1.4 Authority and Accountability

The Board is responsible and accountable to its members and other users; and to the Council of the Town of Newmarket. ~~;~~ The Board shall exercise good stewardship on behalf of the trust placed in it by the Council, general public, patrons, staff, volunteers and other stakeholders.

1.5 Governance

The Board is the legally constituted authority responsible directly to the Council of the Town of Newmarket and the community for prudent oversight of the Library’s operations. It is responsible for the articulation and safeguarding of the organizational mission and defining the outputs and outcomes it seeks. The Board is responsible for long-term planning, strategic planning and direction. It defines the organizational culture, values, operating principles, and parameters within which it expects the CEO to manage the Library's operations.

The Board will:

- ~~Respect~~ respect distinctions between Board and staff roles and manage overlap between these respective roles in a spirit of collegiality and partnership;
- ~~Direct, control, and inspire the Library through careful deliberation and establishment of strategic direction and general policies;~~
- ~~Monitor and regularly discuss the Board's own processes, progress and performance;~~
- Provide its Directors with the knowledge necessary to fulfill their responsibilities for the good governance of the Library;
- ~~Be accountable to the general public for competent, conscientious, and effective accomplishment of its obligations as a body;~~
- ~~Ensure that all business of the Library is conducted in a transparent, legal and ethical manner;~~
- ~~Directors will at all times~~ conduct ~~their~~ its business in accordance with the principles of due legal process;

~~To maintain the best interests of the Board, staff, patrons, and community, all Directors are expected to abide by the Code of Conduct based on this approach to governance;~~

~~The Board shall conduct a closed session review of any actions of any Directors considered to be in serious violation of the Code of Conduct;~~

Individual Directors are appointed by the Town of Newmarket Council and are responsible to the Board. However, they retain no authority to act or give direction individually other than in such manner as is approved in these policies or by resolution of the Board. The Board may delegate authority to an individual Director; however, the Board retains ultimate responsibility and accountability.

2. BOARD DIRECTORS

Recommendations may include disciplinary action such as formal or informal censure by the Board or a request for the Director to resign or to take a leave of absence. Should the Director reject such a request, the Board may refer the matter to Town of Newmarket Council as the body with the sole authority to appoint Directors.
- i) Notwithstanding this process, a Director who is also a Town councillor may separately be subject to investigation and/or discipline by Town of Newmarket Council for the same matter.

3 BOARD RESPONSIBILITIES

Primary Board responsibilities generally fall within nine general areas: Planning; Financial Stewardship; Human Resources Stewardship; Performance Monitoring and Accountability; Risk Management; Community Representation and Advocacy; Management of Critical Transitional Phases; Fundraising and, Complaints Review.

3.2 Planning

One of the most important responsibilities of a Library Board is to provide general guidance and direction for an organization. A comprehensive framework for planning, setting priorities, management and budgeting is essential to effective and responsible organizational stewardship. Good planning results in better communication and a better understanding of how various parts of an organization work together to produce desired results.

3.2.1 Strategic Plan

The Library Board, with the assistance of staff and in consultation with key stakeholders, establishes the Library's overall direction through the development and approval of a Strategic Plan. It is understood that objectives contained in the Strategic Plan may include items that may not be measurable. This plan provides a blueprint for the Library's direction and activities for the next three to five years based on a scan of internal and external factors that may bear on the resources and direction of the organization. It identifies the "key areas" in which the Board wants to focus the activities of the organization and general goals for each of these areas.

3.2.2 Annual Operating Plan

The Library's management develops annual operating plans and budgets based on the general blueprint contained in the Strategic Plan. These become the focus of work throughout the organization over the next twelve-month period. They will contain estimates of service demand for the year as well as objectives for improvement in key areas of Library activity. It is recognized that some of the objectives may not be measurable items. The Library's annual operating plan will be the basis of its yearly budget containing revenues and expenditure forecasts related to planned volumes of service. This plan will contain more specific objectives than contained in the Strategic Plan; expected results for each objective; the time period during which those results will be sought; and, criteria for measuring the achievement of those results. The annual operating plan, together with service statistics and budget forecasts are presented to the Board for review, amendment and approval. Where a Board member recommends a course of action that impact the operating or capital budgets they shall also make recommendations for a compensating source of revenue (or reduction in other expenditures).

3.2.3 Planning Cycle

The development and approval of the Strategic Plan takes place in a three to five-year cycle with progress monitored regularly against targets set in the annual Operating Plan and Budget. Performance against interim targets is monitored each quarter of the fiscal year. The third-quarter review begins a thorough analysis of performance and produces projections of the expected year-end results. Preliminary planning for the coming year's operating goals takes place at the end of the third quarter and is completed late in the fourth quarter with refinements based on actual prior year results concluding in the first quarter. Service targets and forecasts of financial resources and constraints enter into the final preparation of the coming year's budget.

3.2.4 Board Transition Planning

~~The development of a Board Transition Plan from one board term to the next which addresses input to council suggestion for new board members participation~~

The Board Transition plan provides an opportunity for the board to consider the process of recruitment and orientation as well as to leave legacy and direction for the new Board through the creation of strategic plans and effective policies. A formal Board Transition Plan also provides an opportunity for the outgoing board to review its work over the past term; reflect on triumphs and strengths; and ponder fortunate opportunities and lost chances.

3.3 Financial Stewardship

The Board is responsible to: review and approve the annual operating and capital budgets; to investigate and apply for all sources of funding, and to review and develop innovative ways to raise new revenue; ensure development of financial management and inventory control systems adequate to properly record financial transactions and control of assets; monitor efficient use of resources; and ensure the establishment of proper financial controls and policies.

3.4 Human Resources Stewardship

The Board is responsible for ensuring the establishment of personnel policies to govern the management of staff and volunteer resources; recruiting, supporting and evaluating the performance of the CEO; providing guidelines for staff compensation; succession planning to ensure smooth transition in both Board and senior staff positions; and, monitoring compliance with legislative and regulatory requirements.

3.5 Performance Monitoring and Accountability

The Board is responsible for ensuring that adequate systems are in place for monitoring organizational performance; monitoring the general performance of the organization against legislative and regulatory requirements and approved objectives of the organization; and reporting to key stakeholders. It is recognized that many of the most important areas of the Library's role are not measurable.

3.6 Risk Management

The Board is responsible to ensure that By-laws are current; that governance practices are consistent with the By-laws; adequate insurance provisions are in place to protect the organization, staff and Board from potential liabilities; resources are sufficient to minimize risk to employees and volunteers; compliance with the statutory and regulatory requirements; that policies are respect in actual practice; and, adequate contingency plans are in place to protect against reasonably anticipated crises.

3.7 Community Representation and Advocacy

The function of public relations is to assist the Library in achieving its goals and objectives through the development and execution of programs designed to earn public understanding and support. The Board is responsible to represent the organization positively to the community; to fairly represent community perspectives to the organization; to ensure community input to its planning; and, to advocate for adequate resources to fulfill the organizational mandate.

| Authority to speak on behalf of the Library shall rest with the Chair and/or CEO. This authority may be delegated by either of them to others in the Library within their special fields of competence or knowledge.

In general, the Chair will represent the Library on matters of Board policy and the CEO will represent the Library on operational issues. Either may represent the Library on issues related to advocacy on behalf of the mandate of the Library. Any major statements of an advocacy nature must be consistent with the general parameters of Board approved policies or positions. This is not intended to inhibit expression of personal or professional opinions but care should be taken by individual Directors to distinguish these from positions of the Library. It is not acceptable to express such an opinion if it could diminish bargaining capacity or advocacy initiatives that the board has undertaken.

3.8 Management of Critical Transitional Phases

The Board is responsible for management of critical transitional phases and events. These include turnover in key positions in the Board and senior management; rapid growth or decline in resources; labour relations disputes; and, issues of significant public controversy.

3.9 Complaints Review

Directors do not generally have direct contact with patrons. Where a patron makes direct contact with a Director for assistance in the resolution of specific service issues, the Director should refer the patron to the CEO. A Director may not interfere in the handling of a specific case by approaching individual staff members. Concerns about the management of a case should be conveyed to the CEO. The CEO may inform the concerned Director about the action taken in the case or authorize a manager to communicate the information directly to the Director.

The identity of patrons is otherwise confidential to the staff involved in the provision of services. Patron names or identifying personal information will be withheld when case information is presented to the Board or a committee for orientation or illustrative purposes. The Board responsibility for hearing patron complaints on appeal from a decision of the CEO is an exception to these general principles.

Supervisory staff shall initially respond to patron complaints about the nature or quality of services provided by the Library. The patron shall be provided with an opportunity to appeal their decision to the CEO. The patron shall be provided with an opportunity to appeal a decision of the CEO. The Board shall hear the patron and review the matter. They may not overturn staff decisions but may make recommendations to the CEO on the matter and may recommend policy amendments to the Board.

The Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act will always be complied with.

4.5 Role of Board Committees

Committees have an advisory function to the Board. They do not speak or act for the Board unless such authority is formally delegated, they are time-limited, and for specific purposes. They do not have any authority to direct staff although they may, through the board, ask the CEO to allocate resources in support of committee activities. Committees should be confined to the minimum number essential to ensure efficient and effective governance.

4.5.1 Function

A committee's function is to bring the experience, expertise and judgment of a group of interested and informed persons to bear on a specific area of the Library's responsibility. Its job is to assist the Board by considering matters referred to it in greater depth than would be possible by the whole Board. Committees isolate the key issues requiring Board consideration, propose alternative actions, present the implications and make recommendations to the Board for decision.

The Board will not review the matter in the same detail as the committee but must be satisfied that all pertinent information was considered or refer the issue back to the committee for further study. The Board will consider the recommendations of the committee and adopt or amend these recommendations or make such other disposition, as it deems advisable.

4.5.2 Relationship to Staff

The Board and staff shall work co-operatively to carry out the objectives of the Library. Committee and Board meetings are the generally recognized avenues for Board and staff to think and plan together.

The attendance of the CEO, or designate, at all committee meetings as a resource and staff support is essential to the effective work of the committees. Committees may advise the Board or the CEO but do not exercise authority over staff and will ordinarily have no direct dealing with staff operations. Committee members must know and respect the distinction between Board and staff responsibilities.

Open communication between Board and staff is encouraged. However, the following should be directed through the CEO: matters including, but not limited to assignments or directives; requests for organizational resources or staff time; staff performance, concerns or policy infractions; concerns regarding programs or administration.

Such decisions are subject to ratification by the Board at its next meeting. The Executive Committee also has responsibility for the annual performance evaluation of the CEO and for making recommendations to the Board with respect to his or her performance, continuing tenure and compensation.

5. BOARD PROCEDURES

5.1 Recruitment and Screening of New Directors

Directors are appointed by the Council of the Town of Newmarket. Former Directors are encouraged to make recommendations to Council on the matter of recruitment and screening, and to advise on the areas of expertise (e.g. human resources, planning, fundraising, IT, marketing) that would be most beneficial to the Board.
